WELCOME MESSAGE

As president of the Urban History Association I welcome you to the sixth biennial Urban History Association conference. This is the largest conference yet organized by the UHA with more than 110 sessions dealing with cities throughout the world. The theme of the conference is The Cosmopolitan Metropolis, and the scholarly offerings are truly cosmopolitan.

Of special interest are the receptions on Thursday and Friday evenings, the first at New York City’s Municipal Archives and the second hosted by the Museum of the City of New York. On Saturday evening another reception honoring urban historian Sam Bass Warner will be followed by the banquet at which there will be a presidential address and the presentation of the association’s book, dissertation, and article awards. Then on Sunday there will be a plenary session on the future of the urban history field, followed by tours of the city.

I wish to thank the host institution Columbia University for affording us its facilities and the Lehman Center for its financial support. Also deserving of recognition is the program committee which included Lisa Boehm, Amanda Seligman, Christopher Klemek, Thomas Sugrue, Owen Gutfreund, and Robert Lewis. Lisa Keller and her local arrangements committee, assisted especially by Abigail Joseph, have done a stellar job. Their invaluable efforts have made this gathering possible. The UHA executive director Janet Bednarek and membership secretary Brad Hunt have, as always, labored long and loyally for the advancement of the association and this conference.

I hope you find your time in New York City both edifying and enjoyable.

Jon C. Teaford
Purdue University
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many people have contributed to the success of this conference, the largest in the Urban History Association’s existence. We wish to thank all of them for their kindness and hard work in making all the many parts of this conference come together.

Our cosponsor: The Lehman Center for American History, Columbia University, Professor Kenneth T. Jackson, Director, provided substantial support for the conference. Thanks go to the Rare Book and Manuscript Library, Michael Ryan, Director, and James Neal, Vice President for Information Services, Columbia University, for their continued support of the Lehman Center. Thanks also to Matt Hampel, Development Officer, Library, for his sustained assistance for Lehman Center projects.

Our cosponsor: the University Seminars, Columbia University. We extend our gratitude to the staff for their sustained support for all aspects of the conference. They assisted in hotel reservations and arranged for Faculty House to be the conference center: Alice Newton (Associate Director); Gesenia Alvarez (Senior Finance Manager); Pamela Guardia (Administrative Assistant); and Summer Hart (Archive and Web Administrator). Thanks to Robert E. Pollack (Director), and the Advisory Board, whose support for The Seminar on the City has made conferences like this possible. We are grateful to the University Seminars for their generous support of this conference.

Faculty House’s Leslie Robinson, Manager of Catering Events, David Martin, General Manager, and the entire staff get a huge thanks for their detailed attention to conference arrangements and sustained efforts to help make the conference a success.

Thanks to the Museum of the City of New York, especially Susan Henshaw Jones, for graciously hosting our reception. Staff members Jessica Lautin and Rachel Noel expertly arranged everything, and many other staff members have contributed to this conference. Thank go to gallery tour guides Donald Albrecht, Phyllis Magidson, Phyllis Ross, Sean Corcoran, Lindsay Turley, Morgan Stevens-Garmon, Steve Jaffe, and Liz McEnaney.

The staff at the Municipal Archives of New York receives our gratitude for their graciously hosting our reception. Edna Wells Handy, Commissioner, Department of Citywide Administrative Services; Department of Records: Eileen M. Flannelly, Deputy Commissioner; Kenneth R. Cobb, Assistant Commissioner; Marcia Kirk, Curator of Visitor Center; Leonora Gidlund, Director, Municipal Archives; Naomi Pacheco, Director Human Resources; Barbara Filiberto, Budget Officer; Michael Lorenzini, Curator of Photographs; Christine Bruzzese, Supervising Librarian, City Hall Library.

Our graduate and undergraduate student volunteers have been essential in every aspect of this conference. Special thanks go to Student Coordinator Nick Juravich, who has done a splendid job of recruitment and organization. The following are the volunteers we thank for their dedication: Allison Carafa, Lindsey Dayton, John Doyle-Raso, Lauren Ames Fischer, Mary Freeman, Lorenzo Gibson, Mookie Kideckel, Devina Kirloskar, Stephen Koeth, Katy Lasdow, Linda Lee, Daniel Morales, Austin Mouktaff, Keith Orejel, Barbara Pressman, Allison Powers, Pollyanna Rhee, Aurelie Roy, Ekaterina Travis, Oscar Useche, Sherrie Waller, K. Ian Shin, Stephanie Skier, Sirui Zhang (Columbia); Nicola Stathers (Columbia/LSE); Tessa Andrew, Marisa Cortright, Annelise Finney, Veronica Lai, Frances Mayo, Katheryn Thayer (Barnard College); Berta Cuso, Gemma Diaz, David Lee, Glen Olson (City College of New York); Clara Dios (CUNY/ETSAM Spain); Kara Schlichting, Melissa Horne, Adam Wolkoff (Rutgers University); Hannah Bracken (University of Chicago).
Adam Zalma did a splendid job of putting together our book exhibit, and was able to assemble a substantial number of exhibitors. We also thank all our exhibitors for their support of the conference.

Our outstanding local arrangements committee was essential for making everything at the conference happen, and they deserve our deepest gratitude: Robert Beauregard, Leandro Benmergui, Themis Chronopoulos, Marta Gutman, Owen Gutfreund, Nick Juravich, Jeffrey Kroessler, Jaime E. Rodriguez, Barnet Schecter, David Smiley, Jonathan Soffer, Kristin Szylvian, and Rosemary Wakeman.

Special thanks to Abigail Joseph, Conference Coordinator, for her dedicated assistance in every aspect of the conference. And to Professor Lisa Keller, Local Conference Chair, without whose hard work this conference could not have happened.

SPECIAL EVENTS

OPENING RECEPTION: THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 6-8 P.M.
New York City Municipal Archives
Surrogate’s Building, 31 Chambers Street

Interested in the 1654 deed to Coney Island or Lucky Luciano’s 1936 mug-shot? Perhaps the solid gold tea set presented to Mayor Giuliani by the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia is more your style. Or, maybe a rare 1854 topographical map of the lands that became Central Park would pique your interest. UHA conference attendees are invited to a special evening reception at the Department of Records’ new Visitor Center in the landmarked Surrogate’s Court at 31 Chambers Street—widely acknowledged as one of the finest public buildings in New York and a magnificent example of the early twentieth century “City Beautiful” movement. The reception will be held in the exquisite all-marble lobby and special tours will allow guests to explore the collections of the Municipal Archives – one of the largest repositories of historical government records in North America.

RECEPTION AND TOURS: FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 6:30-8:30 P.M.
Museum of the City of New York
1220 Fifth Avenue

The Museum of the City of New York welcomes UHA conference attendees to its Georgian-style mansion across from the Central Park Conservancy Gardens. Guests can explore the riches of this nearly century-old Museum which celebrates the story of New York. Special curator-led tours will feature Museum exhibition and “backstage” views of the Museum’s photography, theater and manuscript collections. Among the Museum’s vast collection are photographs by Jacob Riis and Berenice Abbott, posters advertising Yiddish theater productions, and design drawings from the 1939 New York World’s Fair.

A. Activist New York
Activist New York explores the drama of social activism in New York City from the 17th century up to the present. In a town renowned for its in-your-face persona, citizens of the city have banded together on issues as diverse as civil rights, wages, sexual orientation, religious freedom, and historic preservation. Using artifacts, photographs, audio and visual presentations, as well as interactive components that seek to tell the entire story of activism in the five boroughs, Activist New York presents the passions and conflicts that underlie the city’s history of agitation. This tour will be led by guest curator Steven Jaffe. Tour begins at 7:15 p.m. Limited to 25 people.

B. From Farm to City: Staten Island 1661-2012
This exhibition explores the physical evolution and urban development of Staten Island’s landscape over a 350 year period by looking at the complex historical forces – the people, places, plans (proposed and realized), as well as the moments of conflict – that have shaped the island over time. This tour will be led by co-curators Ryan Carey and Liz McEnaney. Tour begins at 7:15 p.m. Limited to 25 people.

C. The World of D.D. and Leslie Tillett
The World of D.D. and Leslie Tillett is the first retrospective on textile designers D.D. and Leslie Tillett, who produced luxurious custom-made fabrics from their townhouse on East 80th Street that were used by Manhattan decorators such as Sister Parish and Albert Hadley in the Kennedy White House, and worked for companies such as Owens-Corning for whom they created fiberglass fabrics. This tour will be led by Donald Albrecht, curator of architecture and design, Phyllis Magidson, curator of costumes and textiles, and Phyllis Ross, author of Gilbert Rhode: Modern Design for Modern Living. Tour begins at 7:15 p.m. Limited to 25 people.

D. Behind the Scenes at the Museum of the City of New York
This tour will take you behind the scenes at the Museum of the City of New York to learn about the scope of the Museum’s collection and the steps taken to preserve it. The first part of the tour will visit the Museum’s storage areas and the digital lab, which over the last two years has made nearly 100,000 images of New York City visible to the public. , Sean Corcoran, Curator of Prints and Photographs, Morgen Stevens-Garmon, Theater Archivist, and Lindsay Turley, Manuscripts and Reference Archivist, will then feature and discuss items from the collection of particular interest to urban historians. Tours begin at 6:30 and 7:15 p.m. Limited to 12 people each.

RECEPTION HONORING SAM BASS WARNER: SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 6:15-7 P.M.
Ivy Lounge, Faculty House, Columbia University

Join us for drinks before the Gala Dinner. The Urban History Association is grateful to Harvard University Press, publisher of Sam Bass Warner’s Streetcar Suburbs (1962), for generously contributing to this reception on the occasion of the book’s 50th anniversary. Professor Warner served as the second president of the Urban History Association.

GALA DINNER: SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 7-9:30 P.M.
Skyline Dining Room, Faculty House, Columbia University

Enjoy panoramic views of New York City at the Urban History Association’s Gala Awards Dinner and Presidential Address. Dinner will be chicken; vegetarian requests will be accommodated.

WALKING TOURS: SUNDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1:15 P.M.
Departing from Faculty House, Columbia University

Tour #1 – The High Line and the Meatpacking District, led by Kenneth T. Jackson
Catching the M11 bus at 117th Street and Amsterdam, this tour will visit the Chelsea Market (former Nabisco Bakery where the Oreo cookie was invented) and walk on the abandoned elevated railroad that has become a successful linear park. We will see the former home of Bell Labs, the future home of the Whitney Museum of American Art, the place where Alexander Hamilton died, and the location of Gansevoort Market. The tour will end at 4:30 p.m. at 14th Street and Ninth Avenue. Limited to 30 people, no charge.

Tour #2 – Public Housing in Action, led by Nicholas Dagen Bloom
This bus tour will provide an overview of twentieth century public and affordable housing in New York City. New York is unique in the nation in preserving nearly 180,000 traditional public housing units, primarily in large “tower in the park” developments. We will begin our tour at the Dunbar Apartments (1928), a still lovely example of philanthropic housing that laid the groundwork for modern public housing. We will then tour Harlem River Houses (1937), an excellent example of high quality PWA public housing, and the emerging superblock concept, that remains fully tenanted. We will then travel up the street to Polo Grounds Houses (1968), four 30-story towers that are also fully occupied in spite of being an iconic “tower in the park” landscape. We will also visit a renovated community center at the site. The tour will end at Colonial Park Houses (1951), a representative sample of the numerous public housing projects of the Robert Moses era. On the tour we will meet and talk with housing managers and tenants to determine the benefits and challenges faced by public housing tenants and workers in these large housing projects. The our will return to Columbia University at 4:00 p.m. Limited to 22 people, $15 per person.
Tour #3 - Sunnyside Gardens and Model Housing in Queens, led by Jeffrey Kroessler
This walking tour will visit the Sunnyside Gardens Historic District, in Queens, and other examples of housing reform in the vicinity, including the Phipps Houses (private philanthropy), the Woodside Houses (public housing), and Boulevard Gardens (New Deal). We will also visit the office of an architect practicing in the historic district to discuss issues of regulation and restoration under the landmarks law. We will travel to Sunnyside by subway. The tour will last about an hour and a half. Limited to 20 people, $10 per person.

Tour #4 – Immigrant New York, led by Big Onion Walking Tours*
This tour explores the different immigrant and ethnic communities that have resided in the Lower East Side from the early 19th century through today. We’ll look at housing, places of worship and street life. Stops will include: the Tweed Courthouse, the African Burial Ground, Five Points, the Bowery, Chinatown, sites associated with Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Jacob Riis, Abraham Cahan, Emma Goldman and many others. The tour will end around 4:00 p.m. Limited to 25 people, $15 per person.

Tour #5 – Historic Harlem, led by Big Onion Walking Tours*
This walking tour explores the history of Harlem, from its origins as a Dutch village in the 1600s, through its transformation into the “Capital of Black America” by the 1920s. Today, Harlem remains an important hub for African-American business, politics, art and culture. Stops could include: Abyssinian Baptist Church, The Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture, Striver’s Row, the Apollo Theater, the Big Apple Nightclub, and sites associated with W.E.B. Du Bois, the Harlem Renaissance, Madame C.J. Walker, Marcus Garvey, Malcolm X, and others. The tour will last approximately two hours. Limited to 25 people, $15 per person.

Tour #6 – “DUMBO”, led by Andrew Dolkart
This tour will explore the Brooklyn neighborhood known as DUMBO (Down Under the Manhattan Bridge Underpass). This recently redeveloped and gentrifying neighborhood, lined with cobblestone streets and historic commercial architecture, was an industrial and grocery/produce distribution center, with warehouses, piers and rail links. After decades of mid-20th century abandonment, many of the buildings have since been preserved and converted to residential and retail uses, while the waterfront has been turned into two new parks. The tour will travel to Brooklyn by subway, and end by 4:00 p.m. Limited to 20 people, $10 per person.

* Big Onion Walking Tours, started 20 years ago by two Ph.D. candidates in Columbia’s History Department, is the leading scholarly walking tour company in New York. All Big Onion tour guides are graduate students or recent Ph.D. recipients from leading local universities such as Columbia, New York University, and the CUNY Graduate Center.

The Fate of Cities
Roger Biles

“This book should become a standard reference for anyone interested in how the federal government has addressed, or failed to address, the problems of American cities.”
—Journal of Urban Affairs

“Extending Mark I. Gelfand’s landmark study, A Nation of Cities, Biles provides an assessment that is thorough and judicious.”—Journal of American History

“Biles has written the most comprehensive and knowledgeable account of post–New Deal urban policy in decades. Fair-minded and thoroughly documented in its assessments, this book makes plain that recent decades of federal neglect, changes to law-and-order policy, and deference to market forces have deepened the inequities within and between cities and more affluent suburbs. It is an excellent resource for all who care to understand the shape of metropolitan America, past, present, and future.”—Alice O’Connor, coeditor of Urban Inequality

“A significant contribution to the field, this book will become the standard work on the subject.”—Jon C. Teaford, author of Metropolitan Revolution: The Rise of Post-Urban America addition to his social contributions, he also developed the famous ward design for the city of Savannah, a design that became one of the most important planning innovations in American history. Written in a clear and readable style, The Oglethorpe Plan explores this design as a bridge between New Urbanism and other more naturally evolving and socially engaged modes of urban development.

Directions

To Faculty House: Faculty House is located on Columbia University’s East Campus on Morningside Drive. Enter campus through gates at 116th and Broadway. Follow College Walk across Amsterdam Avenue towards Morningside Drive. After passing Jerome Greene Hall on the left, enter Wien courtyard through the gates. Follow courtyard around to the right. Faculty House will be the last building on the right.

To Heyman Center: Enter the Wien Hall Gate on 116th Street between Amsterdam Avenue and Morningside Drive. Walk past Wien Hall, then turn right and make a sharp turn up the staircase to the left, which leads to East Campus. Check in with the guard and follow the sign to the Heyman Center.

To Museum of the City of New York: Catch #4 bus going south at 116th and Broadway and take it to 103rd and Fifth Avenue. The Museum is across the street. Alternately, from Faculty House, walk to Amsterdam Ave., cross street, turn left to #11 bus stop. Take to 110th St. and transfer to #4.

To Municipal Archives: Take #1 subway at 116th Street and Broadway to Chambers Street. Walk east about four blocks until Chambers ends at Center Street. The Surrogate Court Building, home of the Municipal Archives, is on the northwest corner of Chambers and Center Streets.
